Figure A1. Total catch age composition for summer flounder: 1982-2001
Figure A2. Trends in mean weight at age in the total catch of summer flounder.
Components of the summer flounder total catch

Figure A3. Components of the summer flounder total catch.
Figure A4. Trends in NEFSC trawl survey biomass indices for summer flounder.
Figure A5. Trends in MA and RI trawl survey abundance indices for summer flounder.
Figure A6. Trends in CT, NJ, and DE trawl survey abundance indices for summer flounder
Figure A7. Trends in NEFSC, CT, and NJ trawl survey recruitment indices for summer flounder
Figure A8. Trends in MD, VIMS, and NC trawl survey recruitment indices for summer flounder.
Figure A9. Trends in MA, RI, and DE survey recruitment indices for summer flounder.
Figure A10. Total catch (landings and discards, thousands of metric tons) and fishing mortality rate (F, ages 3-5, unweighted) for summer flounder.
Figure A11. Total stock biomass ('000 mt), spawning stock biomass (SSB ages 0-7+ and 2-7+, '000 mt), and recruitment (millions of fish at age-0) for summer flounder.
Figure A12. Stock age composition for summer flounder: 1982-2001
Figure A13. Spawning stock biomass for summer flounder: percent of total at age.
Figure A14. VPA spawning stock biomass and recruitment estimates for summer flounder.
Figure A15. Precision of the estimates of January 1, 2001 total stock biomass (B) and fully recruited fishing mortality on age 3-5 (F) in 2001 for summer flounder.
Figure A16. Retrospective VPAs for summer flounder.
Figure A17. Yield per recruit (YPR) and biomass per recruit (B/R).
Figure A18. Forecast landings in 2003 and total stock biomass on Jan.1, 2004 over a range of fishing mortalities in 2003.
Figure A19. MAFMC FMP Amendment 12 SFA reference points for summer flounder, with 1996-2001 VPA estimates of F and total stock biomass, and forecast estimates of F and total stock biomass for 2002-2004.